They may not look it, but all our skippers are experts. Rest assured, everyone on the cruise stands a good chance of returning completely unharmed!

-- Points of Interest --

The Amazon (South America)

The Rain Forest

It drizzles in this area all year round. Some of the plants take in nutrients directly from moisture in the air.

Toucans

Called "The Living Jewels of the Amazon," these birds have uniquely large bills.

Hornbills

These birds received their name because the armor on their heads look like the horns of a rhinoceros.

The Nile (Africa)

Many animals gather at the river to search for food and water. We invite you to contemplate the drama of nature as it unfolds before your very eyes.

Schwitzer Falls

Warning! When you see a hippo's ears twitching, it means she's angry. Watch out!

The Irrawaddy (Asia)

Struck by a massive earthquake several hundred years ago, this shrine now lies in ruins. Rumor has it that treasures offered to the gods are hidden inside.

This is a sacred place, so please stay quiet.

The Elephant Pool

There are many other colorful spots throughout the cruise! Welcome aboard!

While on board, please remain seated and keep your hands and arms inside the boat. Thank you.
